Part IV – Phased developments

16. Phased developments

- (1) A proposed phased development shall not be registered unless, when the application is lodged, not fewer than twenty-five per centum of the total number of units or eight units, whichever is fewer, are structurally complete and provided with services, together with sufficient of the common property and its buildings and fixtures to allow the reasonable enjoyment of the common property by the holders of those units.
- (2) The proposed phased development shall contain—

- (1) On registering a phased development, the Registrar shall issue a separate Certificate of Title for each of the completed units, together with a Certificate of Title for the remainder of the parcel.
- (2) The remainder may devolve or be transferred, leased, mortgaged or otherwise dealt with in the same manner and form as if it were a piece of land registered in the Lands Register.
- (3) When units contained in the remainder amounting to not fewer than twenty-five per centum of the whole or eight units or the remaining units, whichever is fewest, are structurally complete and provided with services, together with sufficient of the common property and its buildings and fixtures to allow the reasonable enjoyment of the common property by the holders of those units, the Registered Proprietor of the remainder may apply for the issue of Certificates of Title for those units.
- (4) The application shall be accompanied by the Certificate of Title for the remainder and a certificate relating to the completed units of the kind required under subsection (2) of section four.

- (2) The application shall be accompanied by the resolution and the agreements in writing, if any.
- (3) The application shall specify the variation to the satisfaction of the Registrar.
- (4) The variation shall not be registered if the common leasehold scheme as varied would not comply with this Act.
- (5) Where the variation proposes new buildings for the creation of further units, the common leasehold scheme as varied shall be treated as if it were a phased development, with the existing unit-holders being tenant-in-common of the remainder in shares proportional to the unit entitlements of their units unless the variation provides otherwise.

21. Termination of a common leasehold scheme by common consent

- (1) A common leasehold scheme, not being a phased development, may be terminated under this section if the unit-holders pass a unanimous resolution for its termination.
- (2) On the passing of such a resolution, the body corporate shall wind up its affairs and pay off its debts.
- (3) On the passing of a unanimous resolution that the body corporate has satisfactorily wound up its affairs and has no debts outstanding, the body corporate shall lodge with the Registrar—

 - (d) the Registrar shall cancel the Certificates of Title and shall issue a new Certificate of Title for the parcel.
- (5) Where the body corporate was dissolved having outstanding debts, each unit-holder shall be personally liable for an amount of each debt having the same proportion to the whole of the debt as his unit entitlement had to the aggregate of unit entitlements of all the units.

22. Variation or termination of a common leasehold scheme by order of the Tribunal

- (1) On the application of the body corporate, a unit-holder or a registered mortgagee of a unit under common leasehold scheme, the Tribunal may by order settle an arrangement of the interests of the unit-holders and other interested parties which may include provisions—

 - (b) for the reinstatement in whole or in part of a damaged or destroyed building;
 - (c) for the re-assignment among the unit-holders of their interests in units or in the parcel; or

- (2) In the exercise of its powers under this section, the Tribunal may make such orders as it considers expedient or necessary for giving effect to its orders, including orders—

- (4) The Tribunal may from time to time vary an order made by it under this section.
